GoodRx

Austin College's pharmacy benefit includes a program that could save you money at the pharmacy counter. GoodRx will automatically look for potential savings on your generic medications when you fill prescriptions at an in-network pharmacy. Just fill your prescriptions at an in-network pharmacy as you normally would, including showing your insurance ID card. If there are savings available, your prescription will automatically process through the program with the savings, and your deductible, accumulators, and out-of-pocket cost will be updated.

Smart 90 Mail Order

If you are prescribed a long-term medication, you can get a 90-day supply medication delivered to your doorstep. On average, switching your long-term prescription to mail order can save you 28% of the medicine's cost. You can switch your prescription to mail order by visiting express-scripts.com/StartHD or by going to a Walgreens pharmacy location.
