PERRY BROOKS, DDS

CBCT Scan: Anatomy, Diagnosis and
Dental Implant Planning
Three (3) CE Hours
Friday, April 20, 2018
10:00 AM – 1:00 PM
Lecture Format for All Meeting Attendees

The purpose of this course is to gain valuable exposure, experience, and understanding of the role of a dental implant surgeon and dental clinician. Plus, learn how to interpret a three-dimensional CBCT scan using axial, coronal, and sagittal views. Starting with learning basic anatomy of CBCT scan, the lecture will go into detail of the fundamental radiographic anatomy and the different planes of anatomy (axial, coronal, and sagittal views). Radiographic maxillofacial pathology will be reviewed. Instructions on how to write the interpretation of a CBCT scan will be given along with examples/handouts of the necessary information. A brief discussion will be had regarding the medical legal aspects of radiographic interpretation. The remainder of the course will be an introduction of how to diagnose and treatment plan dental implants using multiple different software venues. Followed by, designing and fabricating surgical guides and templates.

HOWARD FARRAN, DDS, MBA

Dr. Farran's One-Day Dental MBA
Three (3) CE Hour
Friday, April 20, 2018
9:30 AM – 12:30 PM
Lecture Format for Dentists and Staff

In this seminar, Dr. Farran shares his proven techniques to increase your productivity and build your business. You will enjoy his fast-paced, straight-from-the-hip, politically incorrect, exhilarating style while you learn more in one lecture than you ever thought possible. Dr. Farran's seminar focuses on the business of running a dental office – things that every business needs to do during this economic environment, and what every business needs to make its products and services more efficient. The things that can realistically be managed and what functions your business should have.
