Part X - FIN 48 Footnote

The Internal Revenue Service has classified Financial Scholars, Inc. as exempt from federal income taxes under Section 501(c)(3) of the Internal Revenue Code ("Code"); as an organization, contributions to which are deductible under Section 170(c) of the Code; and as an organization that is not a private foundation as defined in Section 509(a) of the Code. As a result, no provision or liability for income taxes is included in the accompanying financial statements.

GAAP requires management to evaluate tax positions taken and recognize a tax liability if Financial Scholars, Inc. has taken an uncertain tax position that more likely than not would not be sustained upon examination by a government authority. Management has analyzed the tax positions taken by Financial Scholars, Inc., and is not aware of any uncertain positions taken or expected to be taken that would require recognition of a liability or disclosure in the financial statements. The Organization is subject to routine audits by taxing jurisdictions; however, there are currently no audits for any tax periods in progress and believes it is no longer subject to income tax examinations for years prior to 2022.

Form 990, Part III, Line 4a - First Accomplishment
Financial Scholars, Inc. (the "Organization") implements a four-part strategy to provide high school students and their families with the tools needed to generate greater wealth and achieve financial empowerment. The components of the strategy include:

1) In-class personal finance instruction based on a high-quality, standards-aligned, evidence-based curriculum from Next Gen Personal Finance, as well as 30 hours of Act 48-approved, paid professional development for participating teachers to support a credit-bearing high school class called "Personal Finance";

2) Investing and Entrepreneurship enrichment programming that mobilizes paid university students and corporate volunteers to support students in small group settings in preparation for citywide competitions;

3) Paid summer career exploration including a rotational learning Experienceship program with local corporations and a university-hosted business incubator camp; and

4) Financial empowerment and financial aid adult programming, which offers two six-week virtual workshop series and bonus sessions to parents and other school community members.

Form 990, Part V - Additional Information
The number of employees reported on line 2a includes 27 high school students employed through the organization's Summer Internship Program for approximately one month during the calendar year, in addition to the organization's regular year-round staff. As a result, the employee count includes a significant number of short-term seasonal participants whose compensation consisted of limited-duration internship wages or stipends, and therefore is not comparable to the annual compensation of full-time staff.

Form 990, Part VI, Line 11b - Organization's Process to Review Form 990
Return is reviewed by board committee prior to being filed.

Form 990, Part VI, Line 12c - Enforcement of Conflicts Policy
Financial Scholars, Inc. monitors and enforces compliance with its Conflict of Interest Policy through regular oversight by the Executive Committee of the Board of Directors. The Executive Committee would be responsible for reviewing disclosures, assessing any identified conflicts, and determining appropriate action in accordance with the Organization's bylaws. In cases where a conflict arises, the board member would be required to recuse themselves from related discussions and decision-making. This process safeguards the integrity of Financial Scholars' mission and governance, ensuring that all decisions are made in the best interest of the organization and the students it serves.
