Part III Architect

JOB REFERENCE	FUS-0131
LOCATION	Canterbury
EMPLOYMENT	Permanent
HOURS	Full-time

THE CLIENT

FUSION is recruiting a Part III Architect for an established architectural practice in Canterbury with a strong heritage and conservation workload. The practice provides architecture, masterplanning and heritage consultancy services and works across the South East and wider UK.

The team regularly works with historic and listed buildings, conservation areas and sensitive settings. Their work includes refurbishment, adaptive reuse and carefully considered new interventions alongside existing fabric.

THE ROLE

This role is for a Part III qualified architect with enough post-qualification experience to contribute confidently to heritage-led projects across design and delivery.

The key requirement is relevant experience with historic and listed buildings. Around two years' post-Part III experience is the target level, although the quality and relevance of project experience will matter more than an exact number of months.

KEY RESPONSIBILITIES

- Work on architectural projects involving historic and listed buildings.
- Develop design proposals that respond appropriately to existing fabric, context and heritage significance.

- Prepare coordinated architectural information as projects progress through design and technical stages.
- Contribute to planning and listed-building consent information where required.
- Coordinate with colleagues, consultants and clients to keep design information clear and accurate.
- Support the delivery of sensitive refurbishment, adaptation and new intervention work in historic settings.

PROJECT DELIVERY

- Balance conservation considerations with the practical requirements of contemporary use.
- Review existing building information and respond appropriately to constraints identified during design development.
- Contribute to coordinated project information and help resolve design issues as they arise.
- Maintain clear project information and support accurate, well-considered delivery.

REQUIRED EXPERIENCE

- Part III qualified architect.
- Around two years' post-Part III experience, with sufficient experience to contribute effectively to live projects.
- Demonstrable experience working on heritage projects and listed buildings.
- Experience developing architectural design and technical information in historic building contexts.
- Ability to coordinate architectural information with project colleagues and consultants.
- Clear written and verbal communication for design coordination and project correspondence.
