

VowHaus Films was born from the desire to create wedding films that feel bold, timeless, and cinematic.

INTRODUCTION

We’re Trev and Rochelle, the duo behind VowHaus Films, based in Los Angeles, California.

Rochelle is a published photographer (People, Variety, Forbes, Inside Weddings and Marie Claire)with a strong eye for styling, portraiture, and editorial composition. Trev comes from the art and music world, touring internationally and developing a cinematic sense of rhythm and storytelling.

We create warm, energetic, documentary-style wedding films that feel timeless and true. Our work blends vibrant color, thoughtful sound design, and multiple perspectives — including aerial drone shots and vintage film cameras for a nostalgic touch.

Above all, we’re driven by connection. Your wedding isn’t just an event; it’s a chapter in your story. Years from now, we want you to press play and feel everything all over again — the joy, the tears, the laughter, and all the little moments in between.

COUPLE SHOOT

For us, it's about telling your story in a way that feels personal, effortless and intimate. The couple shoot is a chance to step away from the wedding day rush and focus on the little moments that make your love unique-your laughter, quiet glances, and shared gestures.

Whether we explore a meaningful location, recreate a scene from your favorite film, or simply capture you being yourselves, this shoot adds an unstaged and personal touch to your wedding film. Thirty years from now, you'll look back and see not just your day but the love that made it all possible.
