A NEW SEASON AT THE MILL

As we move into September and a new season of the year, we hope everyone enjoys the Labor Day weekend and has an opportunity to spend some time with family and friends. We're excited about what's ahead this fall and all the ways we'll continue growing together as a church family.

On Saturday, September 12th, the men of Piedmont Mill are invited to BJ Frank's house for good food and great fellowship. BJ will be smoking a 28-pound alligator, and we plan to eat around 5:00 p.m. You're welcome to come earlier, hang out, watch some football, and spend time together while the alligator is smoking. We'd love to have you join us.

September will also mark the beginning of an important four-week sermon series called We See a Day. Over these four weeks, we are going to spend time talking about the future we believe God is calling us toward, the burden He has placed on our hearts, the mission He has given us, and the kind of people we must become if we are going to faithfully carry that mission together.

This is more than a sermon series. It is an opportunity for us to remember why God has placed our church in this community and to look together toward the kind of future we are praying He will bring about. See it. Feel it. Embrace it. Live it. We're excited to walk through these four weeks together and see how God continues to shape Piedmont Mill for the work He has called us to do.
