

DOBSON PLAN

Designed for families who want room to grow without compromising on style, this spacious four-bedroom home delivers an exceptional balance of openplan living, private retreats and everyday functionality. A separate media room provides a second living space, perfect for movie nights, a children's retreat or a quiet place to relax away from the main living area. With its spacious proportions, multiple living areas and family-focused layout, this home is perfectly suited to growing families who value comfort, flexibility and timeless design. It offers everything needed for modern living beautifully brought together in one impressive package.
