This gift agreement transfers legal title of the gift to the Rahway Public Library. The execution of this gift agreement does not transfer any liens or other liabilities from the prior owner to the Library. If the item is found to be encumbered in any way, this agreement shall be null and void and the Library shall return the item to the donor. Once the library becomes the legal owner of this gift, all provisions included in the Rahway Public Library Gift Policy are in effect – specifically the Library’s right to retain, sell, or dispose of any gifted item, unless restricted on this form.

I have read the Rahway Public Library gift policy and accept them.
