The premier global community for pension and investment professionals.

Establishing trusted, long-lasting relationships

Our Community

"PPI is much like a family…
It's a very distinct culture: friendship, peer-ship, collaboration, dialogue, and mutual understanding among peers from literally all over the world."

PPI Membership

The Pacific Pension & Investment Institute (PPI) stands at the nexus of global institutional investment leadership, uniting visionary executives from the world's premier pension funds, sovereign wealth funds, endowments, foundations, and asset management organizations. Our distinguished community shapes the future of institutional investment through meaningful dialogue and collaboration.

Representing trillions in assets under management, our membership embodies unprecedented influence in the global financial landscape. We distinguish ourselves through carefully curated, high-impact content that delivers actionable insights and fosters a nuanced understanding of evolving market dynamics. While our roots and unique expertise in the Asia-Pacific region remain central to our identity, our reach and influence extend across the global investment landscape.

The hallmark of PPI's culture is our commitment to frank, confidential dialogue within a trusted peer network. We maintain a strictly commercial-free environment where authentic dialogue flourishes. All programs operate under the Chatham House Rule, ensuring participants can share perspectives and insights with complete candor in an off-the-record setting.

Membership in the PPI Community is extended through invitation from our board of directors. Our tiered membership structure aligns dues with organizational type and assets under management, with annual renewal on the anniversary of joining.

The pioneering spirit of the PPI Community

In the 1990s, PPI was created out of a pioneering spirit to explore investment opportunities in Asia. During the following decade, PPI's value proposition was forged by the Global Financial Crisis of 2007-2008, as PPI roundtables became a platform for sharing critical insights to face the challenges of the time. In 2020, the world was engulfed by the COVID-19 pandemic and travel was suspended. We shifted to virtual convenings early and successfully, capturing the spirit of PPI in a digital format. We were determined to find a way to convene the PPI Community even in the midst of a global crisis.

Highlights of our pivot to virtual included our roundtables in July and October, which were supplemented by monthly salon gatherings. Discussions throughout the year focused largely on the pandemic's impact on economies, portfolios, organizations, investment themes, and pension funding.

While virtual convenings are not a perfect substitute for in-person gatherings, they have afforded us the opportunity to raise the caliber of our content and speakers and be creative in the use of technology. We also provided customized virtual venues and meeting spaces for our members to gather and converse with their peers in a way that few other organizations have provided.

Navigating the global investment landscape

Our Programs

In today's complex environment for long-term investment, PPI helps its members explore geopolitical and economic issues and derive tangible insights alongside trusted, industry-leading peers and external experts.

Member Programs

ROUNDTABLES

Members gather three times annually for dialogue around macro and micro topics that are relevant to institutional investors.

SALONS

Special programs (between roundtables) on timely investor issues, special briefings, and leadership development opportunities.

SEMINARS

Periodic deep-dive seminars into the economy of a country/region and its place in the global economy.

"What keeps me feeling good about being part of PPI is that they really provide that opportunity to connect. It's the connectedness that gives us the opportunities to invest in areas where we might not otherwise do it."
