Independent Auditors' Report

To the Board of Trustees of Grand Staircase Escalante Partners, Inc.

Opinion
We have audited the financial statements of Grand Staircase Escalante Partners, Inc. (a nonprofit organization), which comprise the statements of financial position as of December 31, 2023 and 2022, and the related statements of activities, functional expenses, and cash flows for the years then ended, and the related notes to the financial statements.

In our opinion, the accompanying financial statements present fairly, in all material respects, the financial position of Grand Staircase Escalante Partners, Inc. (the Organization) as of December 31, 2023 and 2022, and the changes in its net assets and its cash flows for the years then ended in accordance with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America.

Basis for Opinion
We conducted our audit in accordance with auditing standards generally accepted in the United States of America (GAAS). Our responsibilities under those standards are further described in the Auditor's Responsibilities for the Audit of the Financial Statements section of our report. We are required to be independent of Grand Staircase Escalante Partners, Inc. and to meet our other ethical responsibilities, in accordance with the relevant ethical requirements relating to our audit. We believe that the audit evidence we have obtained is sufficient and appropriate to provide a basis for our audit opinion.

Responsibilities of Management for the Financial Statements
Management is responsible for the preparation and fair presentation of the financial statements in accordance with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America, and for the design, implementation, and maintenance of internal control relevant to the preparation and fair presentation of financial statements that are free from material misstatement, whether due to fraud or error.

In preparing the financial statements, management is required to evaluate whether there are conditions or events, considered in the aggregate, that raise substantial doubt about the Organization's ability to continue as a going concern for one year after the date that the financial statements are issued or when applicable, one year after the date that the financial statements are available to be issued.

Auditor's Responsibilities for the Audit of the Financial Statements

Our objectives are to obtain reasonable assurance about whether the financial statements as a whole are free from material misstatement, whether due to fraud or error, and to issue an auditor's report that includes our opinion. Reasonable assurance is a high level of assurance but is not absolute assurance and therefore is not a guarantee that an audit conducted in accordance with GAAS will always detect a material misstatement when it exists. The risk of not detecting a material misstatement resulting from fraud is higher than for one resulting from error, as fraud may involve collusion, forgery, intentional omissions, misrepresentations, or the override of internal control. Misstatements are considered material if there is a substantial likelihood that, individually or in the aggregate, they would influence the judgment made by a reasonable user based on the financial statements.

In performing an audit in accordance with GAAS, we:

- Exercise professional judgment and maintain professional skepticism throughout the audit.
- Identify and assess the risks of material misstatement of the financial statements, whether due to fraud or error, and design and perform audit procedures responsive to those risks. Such procedures include examining, on a test basis, evidence regarding the amounts and disclosures in the financial statements.
- Obtain an understanding of internal control relevant to the audit in order to design audit procedures that are appropriate in the circumstances, but not for the purpose of expressing an opinion on the effectiveness of the Organization's internal control. Accordingly, no such opinion is expressed.
- Evaluate the appropriateness of accounting policies used and the reasonableness of significant accounting estimates made by management, as well as evaluate the overall presentation of the financial statements.
- Conclude whether, in our judgment, there are conditions or events, considered in the aggregate, that raise substantial doubt about the Organization's ability to continue as a going concern for a reasonable period of time.

We are required to communicate with those charged with governance regarding, among other matters, the planned scope and timing of the audit, significant audit findings, and certain internal control–related matters that we identified during the audit.

NOTE 1. Significant Accounting Policies

Organization and Nature of Activities

The Grand Staircase Escalante Partners, Inc. (the Organization), a 501(c)(3) non-profit organization, was established in 2004. According to the mission statement, the Organization is committed to honoring the past and safeguarding the future of Grand Staircase-Escalante National Monument through science, conservation, and education. The Organization's vision is to honor the land. Learn its lessons.

The Organization meets this mission by working with the Bureau of Land Management (BLM), other agencies, universities and other partner organizations on conservation, restoration, education and research projects within the Monument and on public lands within the greater landscape region of the Monument and with other units of the Conservation Lands System that are managed by the BLM. The Organization has the following strategies to guide its efforts:

- Science: Expanding our knowledge and understanding of the natural wonders, biodiversity, and unique ecosystems with which this landscape is endowed by actively supporting and participating in scientific and historical investigation. This includes conducting climate change research as well as launching a climate change mitigation campaign aimed at raising awareness and inspiring action related to the protection of Grand Staircase-Escalante National Monument and all public lands.
- Conservation: Ensuring that Grand Staircase-Escalante's assets —culture, ecology, history, recreation, and science—are recognized, sustained, and enhanced for posterity through collaborative on-the-ground restoration work and invasive species removal.
- Education: Providing places and spaces where adults and youth can meet, exchange ideas, and participate in learning activities, resulting in the building of knowledge and expertise needed to advance local, national, and international interests in the Grand Staircase-Escalante region.

Vacancies in the board of directors are filled by majority vote of the remaining board members. The Organization is managed according to the articles of incorporation, bylaws and policies and procedures with the operations manual.

The Organization's major source of revenues consists of grants and contributions.

Date of Management's Review

In preparing these financial statements, the Organization has evaluated events and transactions for potential recognition or disclosure through July 3, 2024, the date the financial statements were available to be issued.

Income Taxes

No provision has been made for federal income taxes because the Organization is exempt from federal income tax as a public charity organization under Section 501(c)(3) of the Internal Revenue Code. The Organization has implemented accounting guidance associated with accounting for uncertainty in income taxes. There was no impact to the Organization's financial statements as a result of the implementation of this guidance. The Organization's Form 990, Return of Organization Exempt from Income Tax, for the years ending 2019 through 2023 are subject to examination by the IRS, generally for three years after they were filed.

Cash and Cash Equivalents and Credit Risk

The Organization's cash and cash equivalents are considered to be cash-on-hand, demand deposits and short-term investments with original maturities of three months or less from the date of acquisition for purposes of the statement of cash flows. Financial instruments that potentially subject the Organization to credit risk consist principally of cash at financial institutions. At times, the balances in cash accounts may have been in excess of FDIC insurance limits.

Promises to Give and Grants Receivable

Contributions are recognized when the donor makes a promise to give to the Organization that is, in substance, unconditional. Contributions that are restricted by the donor are reported as increases in net assets with donor restrictions depending on the nature of the restrictions. When a restriction expires, net assets with donor restrictions are reclassified to net assets without donor restrictions.

Conditional contributions, including certain grants, are recognized when the Organization overcomes the donor/grantor stipulations that represents a barrier to being entitled to the assets transferred or promised. A transfer of assets that is a conditional contribution is recognized as an advance until the conditions have been substantially met or explicitly waived by the donor/grantor.

All receivables are due within one year from the dates of the financial statements. Management considers all receivables to be collectible; therefore, an allowance is not considered necessary.

Property and Equipment

The Organization capitalizes property and equipment with estimated useful lives greater than two years. Assets with lesser lives are expensed. Purchased property and equipment is capitalized at cost. Donations of property and equipment are recorded as contributions at their estimated fair value. Such donations are reported as unrestricted contributions unless the donor has restricted the donated asset to a specific purpose. Assets donated with explicit restrictions regarding their use and contributions of cash that must be used to acquire property and equipment are reported as restricted contributions. Absent donor stipulations regarding how long those donated assets must be maintained, the Organization reports expirations of donor restrictions when the donated or acquired assets are placed in service. The Organization reclassifies net assets with donor restrictions to net assets without donor restrictions at that time. Property and equipment are depreciated using the straight-line method: Buildings and improvements over estimated useful lives of 10 to 30 years and equipment and vehicles over estimated useful lives of five to seven years.

Leases

The provisions of ASC 842 defines leases as contracts, or portions of contracts, granting "control" of an identifiable asset for a specific period of time in exchange for payment. The term "control" carries a distinct meaning in this definition. In order to demonstrate control of an asset, an entity must be able to obtain "substantially all" of the economic benefit from the asset's use and direct its use throughout the period of the contract. As of December 31, 2023, the Organization had no items that qualify as leases under ASC 842.

Revenue Recognition

Program service fees, including private landowner contracts, are recognized when the related services are performed. For private landowner contracts, the Organization receives payment (and recognizes revenue) once the related contract item obligation is completed and inspected (see Note 4 regarding related board designations). The Organization recognizes a liability for payments received in advance, if any, of performing the related services.

Contributions

Contributions received are recorded as net assets with donor restrictions or net assets without donor restrictions depending on the existence or nature of any donor restrictions.

Contributed Services and Facility Use

Except as noted below, no amounts have been reflected in the financial statements for donated services. The Organization generally pays for services requiring specific expertise. However, individuals volunteer their time and perform a variety of tasks that assist the Organization, but these services do not meet the criteria for recognition as contributed services.

A professional law firm provided legal services relating to the Organization's programs and exempt purpose for the years ended December 31, 2023 and 2022. The services relate to the Monument's protected status, advocacy for long-term protection of the Monument and enhanced cooperation with the BLM. The Organization recognized revenue and associated expense (i.e. professional fees) for this in-kind donation that totaled $294,117 and $257,620 for the years ended December 31, 2023 and 2022, respectively.

Cost Allocation

The financial statements report certain categories of expenses that are attributable to more than one program or supporting function. Therefore, these expenses require allocation on a reasonable basis that is consistently applied. The expenses that are allocated include salaries and wages, payroll taxes, insurance, and some other shared expenses which are allocated on the basis of estimates of time and effort. Generally, professional fees are allocated directly. However, the donated legal services mentioned above are allocated 90% to program and 10% to management and general, based on management's estimates.

Advertising

The Organization expenses advertising costs as they are incurred.

Use of Estimates

The preparation of financial statements in conformity with generally accepted accounting principles requires management to make estimates and assumptions that affect certain reported amounts and disclosures. Accordingly, actual results could differ from those estimates.

NOTE 2. Liquidity and Availability of Financial Assets

The following reflects the Organization's financial assets available within one year of the balance sheet date, reduced by amounts not available for general use because of contractual or donor-imposed restrictions within one year of the balance sheet date. Amounts with contractual or donor restrictions are deemed available for general expenditures even though the resources must be used in a particular manner. The Organization is substantially supported by restricted grants and contributions that relate to the primary and ongoing activities of the Organization, and the Organization expects to use the majority of the restricted resources in the normal course of operations within one year of the financial statement date.

	2023	2022
Cash and cash equivalents	$ 816,468	$ 856,354
Receivables	37,179	61,268

Financial assets available to meet cash needs for general expenditures within one year	$ 773,205	$ 814,096

The Organization typically has significant cash to meet the cash needs for general expenditures. The Organization has set aside a cash reserve (no formal board designation; part of cash and cash equivalents and included above), which is expected to continue to grow. This reserve is meant for emergencies and is not needed for general operating expenditures.

	2023	2022
Restoration - private landowner contracts	$ 80,442	$ 103,526
Net assets - without donor restrictions - board designated	$ 80,442	$ 103,526

The Boulder Escalante restoration private landowner contracts designation is to be used for specific private landowner contracts (see Note 1). The designation is to ensure that these projects are funded through their contractual obligation and beyond until restoration can be achieved. Restoration is defined as less than 5% invasive canopy cover and recruitment of native plants, which may take multiple years of intervention to achieve.

Employees must make elective deferrals to the plan to receive a matching contribution. The percentage of the elective deferrals to be matched will be determined by the organization at the end of the plan year. Employees must be eligible and employed on December 31 to receive a matching contribution. For the years ended December 31, 2023 and 2022, employer contributions were $8,829 and $5,617, respectively.
