Nourishing Neighbors “Nourish the American Dream” Campaign

Albertsons Companies Foundation’s Nourishing Neighbors alongside a nationwide coalition of hunger relief organizations is launching Nourish the American Dream, the first ever unified national movement to end childhood hunger in America.

From July 1 through July 7, hunger organizations will come together for one shared week of action to raise funds, build awareness, and rally communities around one shared vision: ensuring no child goes hungry.

The campaign is intentionally timed to coincide with Independence Day. As our country celebrates 250 years of American freedom, we also want to shine a light on the children who lose access to reliable meals when school is out, and on the incredible organizations working tirelessly every single day to change that.

Every participating organizations will mobilize their own community, raise funds to support their local work, and be amplified through a national platform. Together, our voices become stronger and our impact becomes greater.

This movement is built entirely on collaboration with a collective goal of raising $5 million to support childhood hunger efforts nationwide. But beyond fundraising, our vision is even bigger: to turn Independence Day into a lasting national movement of action around childhood hunger, year after year.

This is our moment to come together as one country, one movement, and one shared commitment to America’s children.

We will also be hosting two information sessions to address any questions you may have about the campaign. You can register using the link below.

NOURISHING NEIGHBORS

Nourishing Neighbors Consortium

The Nourishing Neighbors Consortium was launched last year to bring hunger relief organizations together to collaborate, share knowledge, and work collectively toward ending hunger in America. Today, the consortium includes 37 organizations from across the nation.

In April this year, members gathered in Washington, DC for the first in person convening to align on shared priorities, strengthen relationships, and identify opportunities for collective action. Together, the group adopted the following purpose statement:

"The purpose of the Consortium is to end hunger in America by leveraging our resources and knowledge to cultivate sustainable and creative solutions, change minds, and drive collective action".

The meeting also sparked exciting next steps focused on amplifying our collective voice and deepening collaboration. We are incredibly hopeful about the impact this Consortium will have in communities nationwide.

When Investing in Moms Changes Everything

Through No Kid Hungry's Family Economic Mobility work, Albertsons Companies Foundation has made an investment that helps single mothers like Tatiana Bolton, a Chicago mom who grew up food insecure, access the coaching, childcare, and income support she needed to build a stable future for her son Josiah. "You support us, we support them," Tatiana says. "It's like a chain reaction."

Thanks to the support of the Albertsons Companies Foundation, No Kid Hungry has helped unlock billions in child tax credit resources, grown coaching programs from 30,000 to over 90,000 families, and proven that when you invest in a mother's economic stability, you don't just feed a child today — you change what's possible for generations.
