AIC CMMC Complete™ is a standardized commercial software kit that customers deploy and operate. Run it on your own hardware and software, or on networking and virtual machines supplied by a commercial cloud provider. Your organization controls the environment and authorizes access for its staff, MSP, and qualified solution providers. Analog Informatics supplies the software and does not host or manage your CMMC systems.

A cloud service with a defined authorization boundary and customer responsibility matrix. Cloud authorization and customer software are separate layers. AIC is not a FedRAMP-authorized cloud service and does not replace the cloud provider's authorization. AIC still needs hosting, storage, networking, and administration.

Confirm Hosting Costs and VDI Capacity

A per-user SaaS price does not explain the VDI capacity behind it. If a provider does not publish hosting charges or capacity limits, mark them as undisclosed and obtain a written quote. Do not assume unlimited desktops, compute, or storage.

• Are virtual desktops included, separately billed, or metered by session or usage? What is the total at your peak concurrent sessions?

• What CPU, RAM, storage, GPU, and persistent desktop sizes are available? What are the maximum sizes and upgrade costs?

• Which engineering, CAD/CAM, business applications, peripherals, and local file workflows are supported?

• What are the session-duration, idle timeout, storage, bandwidth, and data-transfer limits?

• What changes when you add named users, auditor or MSP accounts, sites, or workload capacity? AIC includes one FCI/CUI email account per named user; additional named users are $15 per user per month.

• Who patches and monitors the environment, retains logs, handles incidents, restores backups, and supplies assessment evidence?

With AIC, you select and pay for your own infrastructure and any VDI platform. That makes the infrastructure choices visible to you; it does not make compute, storage, administration, or third-party licensing free.

Build a Matched Quote

Ask both providers to price the same CUI boundary: 25 users with one included FCI/CUI email account per named user, 25 managed systems, and the same privileged administrators. Additional named users are $15 per user per month. Itemize software, hosting, setup, ongoing administration, assessment support, and existing licenses. A different user count or an unpublished price cannot establish which complete solution costs less.

Deployment, configuration, and FCI/CUI data migration are the client's responsibility, typically with an MSP or another qualified provider under the client's control. Infrastructure, third-party products, independent assessment, and separately agreed provider services are separate costs.
