

HELVEPIC

Swiss Epic Crafters

Founded in Switzerland in 2024, Helvepic is a Swiss concert production company dedicated to creating Epic Music experiences that combine artistic excellence, immersive storytelling and world-class production values. We believe Epic Music is a powerful artistic language capable of bringing people together through emotion, imagination and a sense of grandeur. Through thoughtfully crafted production, we craft memorable experiences that connect audiences with the creators and worlds that inspire them.

What we craft

- Produce large-scale Epic Music concerts and live experiences.
- Collaborate with composers, performers and creative teams.
- Support artists locally through professional platforms and opportunities.
- Organize educational initiatives and masterclasses.
- Develop original productions and international partnerships.
- Produce, film, and record live concerts for digital distribution, streaming platforms, and physical media releases.

What Is Epic Music

Epic Music is the powerful, cinematic sound most people already know without naming it — the music that drives film trailers, video games and movie soundtracks, and that makes the key moments of a story feel larger than life.

It blends symphonic orchestration, choir, cinematic percussion and modern electronic textures to create emotionally intense, immersive listening experiences, built around themes of adventure, heroism and wonder. Popularized through trailers, games and film and television, it has grown into a genre of its own, with its own composers, performers and a global audience.
