PROFESSIONAL BIO

Dr. Kim Hastings is a school psychologist, educational leader, and longtime ministry partner with a passion for helping others flourish academically, professionally, and spiritually. She earned her Ph.D. in School Psychology from Oklahoma State University and has served in school psychology and educational leadership, supporting students, families, and professionals through compassionate leadership and mentoring.

Kim first became involved with Grad Resources and Christian Grads Fellowship (CGF) during graduate school, where she discovered a community that helped her integrate faith and scholarship. Nearly two decades later, she continues to invest in graduate students as a mentor and coach, encouraging them to navigate challenges, discern their calling, and grow as leaders who honor Christ.

Her own journey—including navigating Multiple Sclerosis, marriage, and adoption—has deepened her faith and shaped her mentoring with empathy, wisdom, and hope. Kim is passionate about walking alongside others as they pursue both personal and professional flourishing while trusting God's leading.
