

DR. GREG GANSSLE

Ph.D.

Dr. Greg Ganssle is a philosopher, author, and professor who helps people thoughtfully explore how the Christian story speaks to our deepest questions about God, truth, meaning, and human flourishing.

AREAS OF EXPERTISE

Philosophy of Religion
Nietzsche

HOBBIES

Reading, Music, Family

FUN FACT

My fingerprints are on the moon

AVAILABILITY

- In-Person Local:
  La Mirada, CA
- Virtual Nationwide
- Travel Available Nationwide

LINK TO PUBLICATIONS

PROFESSIONAL BIO

Dr. Greg Ganssle is Chair of Philosophy & Apologetics and Professor of Philosophy at Biola University's Talbot School of Theology. His journey into philosophy began through Christian campus ministry, where conversations with students wrestling with questions about God, evil, faith, and reason sparked a lifelong pursuit of thoughtful answers. After initially studying secondary education in biology, he went on to earn graduate degrees in philosophy and has now spent more than three decades exploring the intersection of Christian faith and contemporary scholarship.

Before joining Biola, Dr. Ganssle taught philosophy at Yale University for nine years and served as a senior fellow at the Rivendell Institute at Yale. An accomplished author and scholar, his work explores philosophy of religion, the nature of God, human flourishing, and how the Christian story speaks to our deepest questions and desires. Through teaching, writing, and speaking, Dr. Ganssle invites audiences to engage difficult questions with intellectual honesty while considering how Christian faith provides a compelling framework for understanding reality, meaning, and what it means to live well.

UNIVERSITIES ATTENDED

Syracuse University
Ph.D. Philosophy

University of Rhode Island
M.A. Philosophy

University of Maryland
B.S. Secondary Education in Biology

SOME SPEAKING TOPICS

- Philosophical Apologetics