PROFESSIONAL BIO

J. Steve Lee is an educator, Christian apologist, and author who currently serves as an Apologetics Instructor at Prestonwood Christian Academy, where he has spent more than two decades helping students develop a thoughtful, evidence-based Christian worldview. Through his teaching, writing, and public engagement, Steve equips students, professionals, and church communities to thoughtfully engage questions surrounding science, philosophy, history, and the Christian faith.

As the creator of Is Christianity True?, Steve develops articles and educational resources that make apologetics accessible while encouraging respectful dialogue around life's biggest questions. Alongside his passion for theology and philosophy, he is an avid reader of fiction and enjoys exploring themes of truth, sacrifice, redemption, and hope through literature, particularly the Harry Potter series. Steve believes compelling stories have the power to illuminate deeper spiritual truths and inspire meaningful conversations about faith, reason, and the pursuit of truth.
