

Privacy Policy

Last updated: October 8, 2026

1. Introduction

Calibers, LLC ("Calibers," "we," "us," or "our") respects your privacy. This policy explains how we collect, use, and protect personal information when you visit www.CalibersUSA.com or use our website services.

2. Information We Collect

We collect personal information you voluntarily provide when using our website or services, including information submitted through forms and requests. We also collect your mobile phone number and messaging consent when you choose to receive text messages. Our website uses cookies and similar technologies as described below.

3. How We Use Information

- To provide requested services and respond to your inquiries.
- To send the text messages you have opted in to receive.
- To comply with legal obligations.
- To improve our services and website experience.

4. Text Messaging & Mobile Privacy

When you opt in to receive text messages from Calibers, we use your mobile number and consent information for the messaging program you selected. Providing a phone number alone does not constitute consent to receive marketing text messages.

Mobile information and text messaging opt-in consent will not be sold or shared with third parties or affiliates for their own marketing or promotional purposes. Service providers may process this information on our behalf solely to support delivery and administration of our messaging program.

To stop receiving text messages, reply STOP to the number that sent the message. For assistance, reply HELP or contact Calibers using the contact information below.

Privacy Policy

5. Information Sharing

We do not sell or share personal information with third parties or affiliates for their own marketing or lead-generation purposes. We may provide information to service providers that help us operate our website and deliver requested services, such as forms, bookings, memberships, payments, and communications. We may also disclose information when required by law.

USCCA membership benefits: If you enroll in the Platinum Protection Package, Calibers shares the member enrollment details needed with USCCA to activate and administer your included USCCA membership benefits. USCCA handles that information under its own privacy policy.

6. Cookies & Similar Technologies

Our website and embedded third-party services may use cookies and similar technologies to support site functionality, remember preferences, and deliver features such as video playback, forms, and booking services. These providers may collect technical information, such as device or browser information and interactions with their services, under their own privacy policies.

You can block or delete cookies using your browser settings. Disabling some cookies may affect website features. Where cookie preference controls are provided, you can use them to manage the available options.

7. Security

We take reasonable measures to protect personal information from unauthorized access or disclosure. No method of transmission or storage can guarantee complete security.

8. Third-Party Websites & Services

Our website may link to or embed third-party services, including forms, booking tools, membership services, online stores, and video content. Information you submit directly to these services is also subject to their own privacy policies. Review those policies before providing personal information. Calibers is not responsible for the privacy practices or content of third-party websites.

9. Policy Updates

We may update this policy from time to time. The revised policy will be posted on our website with its effective or last-updated date.
