Updates

We keep this Cookie Notice under regular review and may update it at any time. Please take a look at the "Last Updated" section at the bottom of this Cookie Notice to see when it was last changed. Any changes in this Cookie Notice will become effective when we make the revised Cookie Notice available on or through our site. We encourage you to check this Cookie Notice on a regular basis.

What are cookies?

Cookies are text files containing small amounts of information which are downloaded to your device when you visit our site. Our site recognises those cookies on each subsequent visit, enabling our site to recognise you.

Unless you have adjusted your browser settings to refuse cookies (and details of how to do this are signposted at the end of this notice), our site will set cookies as soon as you visit our site.

How and why we use cookies

We use cookies on our site to:

- (a) recognise you whenever you visit our site;
- (b) remember the notifications you've seen so that we don't show them to you again;
- (c) allow you to navigate between pages efficiently; and
- (d) measure how you use our site so it can be updated and improved to give you the best possible experience on our site.

The information we obtain from our use of cookies will not usually contain information from which you can easily be identified, such as your name. However, we do collect some personal data relating to your computer or other electronic device, such as your IP address, your browser and other internet log information.

In most cases we will need your consent to use cookies on our site. The exception to this is where the cookie is essential for us to provide you with a service you have requested.

When you open our site in your browser a cookie pop up message will be displayed and this will ask you for your consent for non-essential cookies to be placed on your device. If you do not click to accept cookies but you continue to use our site without disabling cookies, we will consider this to mean that you accept our use of these non-essential cookies. A record of your acceptance will be stored in a functional cookie for 30 days, after which the cookie will expire and the cookie pop up message will be displayed again.

You may withdraw your consent or acceptance at any time by following the instructions for disabling cookies, signposted at the end of this Cookie Notice.

We use the following cookies on our site:
