NON-GAAP FINANCIAL MEASURES

We use the terms Resort Reported EBITDA, Total Reported EBITDA, Adjusted Free Cash Flow, and Resort Reported EBITDA Margin, which are not financial measures under accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America ("GAAP") and may not be comparable to similarly titled measures of other companies. These non-GAAP financial measures should not be considered in isolation or as an alternative to, or substitute for, measures of financial performance or liquidity prepared in accordance with GAAP.

Reported EBITDA (and its counterpart for each of our segments) has been presented herein as a measure of the Company's performance. The Company believes that Reported EBITDA is an indicative measurement of the Company's operating performance, and is similar to performance metrics generally used by investors to evaluate other companies in the resort and lodging industries. The Company defines Reported EBITDA as segment net revenue less segment operating expense, plus or minus segment equity investment income or loss, plus gain on litigation settlement, and for the Real Estate segment, plus gain on sale of real property. The Company defines Resort EBITDA Margin as Resort Reported EBITDA divided by Resort net revenue. The Company believes Resort EBITDA Margin is an important measurement of operating performance. The Company defines Adjusted Free Cash Flow as Resort Reported EBITDA less capital expenditures less cash paid for interest. The Company believes Adjusted Free Cash Flow is an important measurement of operating performance.

Additional information, including a reconciliation of non-GAAP measures referred to in this presentation, is provided in the tables at the conclusion of this presentation as well as in our earnings release, as applicable, issued on September 28, 2026, which is available at www.vailresorts.com.

OVERVIEW

WHAT IS THIS PROXY CONTEST ABOUT?

Oasis agrees with Board's existing strategic plan:

- ✓ Not selling resorts
- ✓ Integrated network
- ✓ No change to capital allocation
- ✓ Optimize marketing
- ✓ Focus on guest experience
- ✓ Leverage technology
- ✓ Increase ancillary capture

What Oasis is really saying:

- Board should not have brought back Rob Katz as CEO
- Oasis tactical ideas and timeline are better, despite no industry expertise or data
- Oasis nominees would get Mr. Katz to execute the Oasis ideas

The Board strongly disagrees.

The Board acted decisively, chose the right leader and has the right strategic plan for growth.

THE BOARD RECOGNIZED THE NEED FOR CHANGE AND ACTED

THE BOARD HAS A THOUGHTFUL APPROACH TO SUCCESSION PLANNING, LEADING TO THE CEO TRANSITION IN 2021

CEO succession was an ongoing Board priority, with deliberate planning focused on developing leadership capabilities and ensuring continuity

SUCCESSION PLANNING WAS ONGOING AND DELIBERATE

- The Board maintained an ongoing focus on and discussion of succession planning as part of its governance responsibilities and the Comp. Committee's mandate
- The Board developed and assessed internal leadership capabilities over time as internal successors shown to have higher success rates
- Succession planning was designed to provide leadership continuity while positioning the Company for its next phase of growth

THE PROCESS DEVELOPED A DEEPLY EXPERIENCED INTERNAL SUCCESSOR

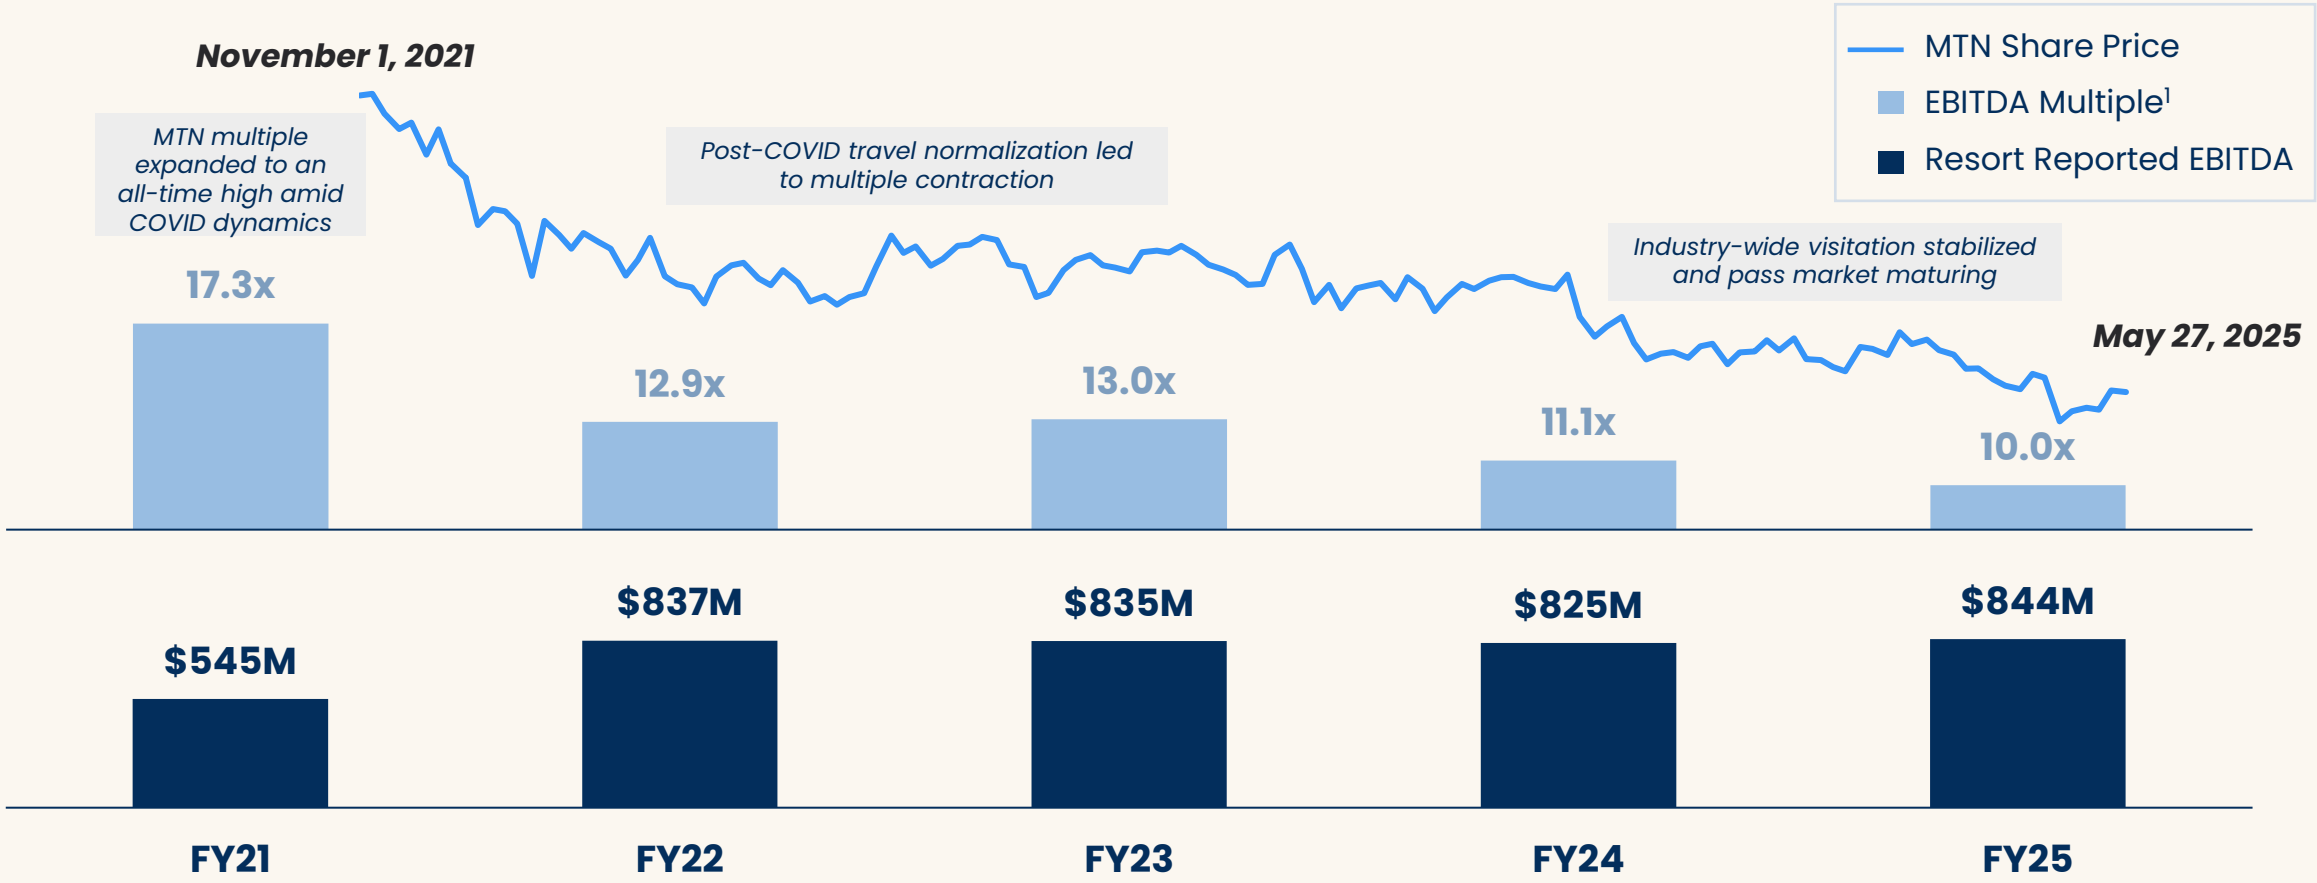

- The multi-year process resulted in a successor appointed in August 2021 with a decade of senior leadership experience and track record of growth at Vail Resorts
- Kirsten Lynch had served as Chief Marketing Officer since 2011, leading marketing, sales and communications and playing an important role in Vail Resorts' data-driven growth strategy
- Her experience included helping scale the Epic Pass and advance-commitment model, a central driver of the Company's growth and success

BOARD OVERSIGHT CONTINUED BEYOND THE TRANSITION

- The Board remained actively engaged after the transition to monitor and assess Company performance
- Former CEO supported transition as Executive Chairperson
- That ongoing oversight enabled the Board to respond as business circumstances and performance evolved

THE BOARD ACTIVELY MONITORED PERFORMANCE AFTER TRANSITION WHEN TOTAL SHAREHOLDER RETURN WAS IMPACTED BY SKI INDUSTRY DYNAMICS

TSR since FY21 reflects an EBITDA multiple contraction, though EBITDA has remained relatively stable

Headline TSR comparisons overlook Vail-specific dynamics, including COVID normalization and pass-model maturation, that materially affected performance but were not equally applicable to peers

1. As of 7/31; Enterprise Value to Next Twelve Months Consensus Resort Reported EBITDA

WHEN COMPANY-SPECIFIC CHALLENGES EMERGED, THE BOARD TOOK DECISIVE ACTION TO REPLACE THE CEO

The CEO transition coincided with unprecedented disruption and shifting industry-wide travel dynamics

TRANSITION DURING UNPRECEDENTED DISRUPTION

CEO transition coincided with global industry-wide labor shortages that impacted operations

POST-COVID NORMALIZATION DISPROPORTIONATELY IMPACTED VAIL

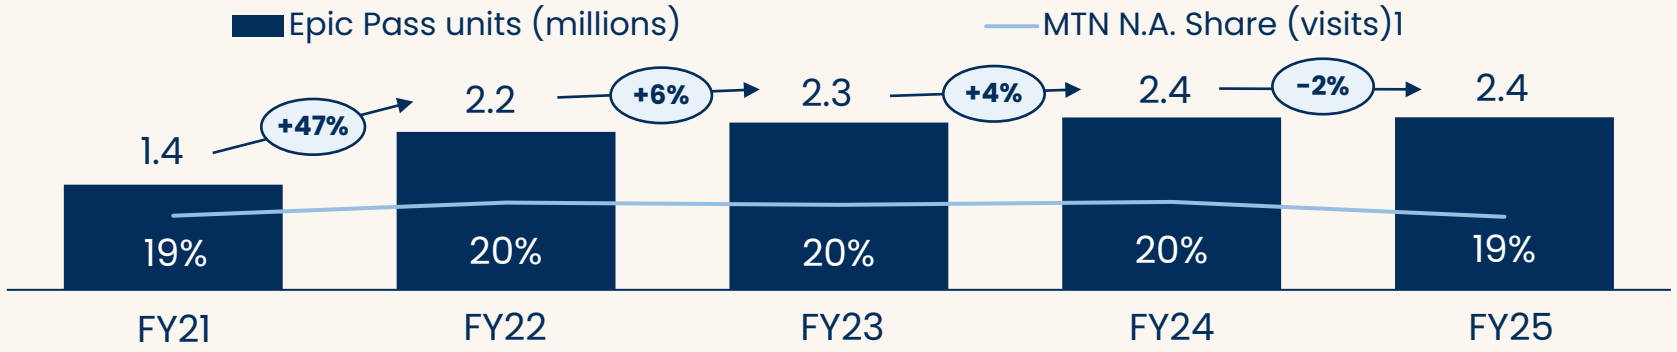

Multiple had surged post-COVID to all-time highs and amplified share price move as travel demand normalized

THE BOARD ACTED AS COMPANY-SPECIFIC ISSUES EMERGED

The Board acted quickly after FY25 saw share declines amid Park City strike and declines in marketing effectiveness

THE BUSINESS EVOLVED

Pass growth established a materially larger base, with industry share holding through FY24

FY22

- ✓ Passes +47% and share +1 pt
- ✓ Announced $175M Labor Investment
- ✓ Large investment in new Lifts

FY23-FY24

- ✓ Held share as market normalized
- ✓ Fully staffed
- ✓ Announced $100M Savings Plan
- ✓ Invested in Gear and Technology

FY25

- X Share declined –1 pt
- X Park City 13-day strike
- ✓ Record staff return rates & greater hiring selectivity

WE ARE LEADING THE NEXT CHAPTER

- We did not move quickly enough as the pass business matured in FY25, though we are still well ahead of the industry in addressing the evolution and positioned well to holistically market across all lift access products and ancillary
- Foundational pieces put in place during this time to position the Company well on talent, technology and guest experience

1. Pro forma adjusted to include visitation pre-MTN ownership sourced from acquisition diligence materials

THE BOARD BROUGHT BACK ROB KATZ – THE RIGHT LEADER

OASIS NOMINEES'
 Bob Chapek	✗	✗	Poor track record: unsuccessful Disney CEO, fired in Nov. 2022 under three years into the role (-28% TSR[1]); dated operating experience; left the Masimo board ~15 months after joining; controversial consumer and community engagement
 M. Ashton Hudson	✗	✗	No relevant operating experience: only operating role was at a private pest control company; financial experience the Board already has from multiple directors

✓ Extensive Experience ✗ Lacks direct experience

Oasis' nominees would take away two directors critical to the transition and to setting the current plan – Mr. Chapek and Mr. Hudson bring no additive marketing, digital, loyalty or technology experience

NO SUPERIOR ALTERNATIVE PLAN AND UNQUALIFIED NOMINEES

NO SUPERIOR PLAN. NO STRONGER NOMINEES. NO CASE FOR CHANGE.

SAME IDEAS, NO DIFFERENTIATED ROADMAP

Oasis is repackaging initiatives Vail already has underway, without explaining how it would execute them differently or providing financial targets, timing or a value-creation roadmap

FLAWED PROCESS, FLAWED NOMINEES

Oasis' rushed, shifting process resulted in a haphazardly constructed slate that was cut in half within weeks, leaving nominees with significant qualification gaps and concerning governance track records and alignment issues

DISRUPTION WITHOUT A BETTER ALTERNATIVE

Replacing Vail directors would remove capabilities essential to the strategy at a critical point in execution, without adding a superior plan or stronger Board expertise

OASIS PLAN OFFERS NOTHING NEW AND MISSES THE LARGER OPPORTUNITIES WITHIN THE FULL EPIC EXPERIENCE STRATEGY

	OASIS' PLAN	VAIL'S PLAN ALREADY UNDERWAY
1	Raise the Ceiling	Premium experiences already launching as part of Epic Experience, including Epic Ascent private ski school, My Epic Gear and elevated dining - Already expanding high-end offerings
2	Lower the Floor	Expanded entry-level offerings, including 50% off Epic Friend Tickets, 30% off Super Advance Lift Tickets and 20% off the Young Adult Epic Pass - Already working: Epic Friend Tickets +10% and Super Advance Lift Tickets +65%
3	Improve Asset Utilization	Invested meaningfully in summer activities years ago to offer year-round experiences at our destination and regional resorts - Oasis does not understand the financial and competitive dynamics of summer
4	Refine Marketing Strategy	Marketing changes already underway after CEO change and brought in a new Chief Revenue Officer to further advance marketing efforts - Loyalty is already built in through Epic Experience and Epic Mountain Rewards
5	Upgrade Technology	Industry-leading technology with additional investments already planned as part of Epic Experience, including Digital Ski School, In-App Commerce, Gear Rental, Guest Engagement, AI trip planning, and more - Oasis' "accelerate" ask ignores operational feasibility

OASIS FAILS TO RECOGNIZE THAT THE COMPANY HAS ALREADY ACTED

Oasis calls for Vail Resorts to "Think Bigger, Move Faster and Execute Better." Vail is already doing all three.

THINK BIGGER

THE COMPANY ANNOUNCED, AND IS IMPLEMENTING LARGE-SCALE GROWTH PLANS

- ✓ Epic Experience is a multi-year growth strategy focused on the largest and most impactful areas to increase loyalty - including transforming the gear business - to drive long-term value
- ✓ Increased Resource Efficiency plans by $30M

MOVE FASTER

THE COMPANY HAS MOVED WITH URGENCY TO INNOVATE

- ✓ Revamped marketing go-to-market and investment
- ✓ Launched new lift ticket offerings, introduced new pass products, and optimized pricing
- ✓ Introduced new digital ski and ride school experience

EXECUTE BETTER

THE COMPANY IS EXECUTING AND DELIVERING RESULTS

- ✓ Outperformed the industry in lift ticket visitation in FY26[1]
- ✓ Outperforming the market in pass sales to date for 2026/27[2]
- ✓ Record guest satisfaction and strong employee engagement
- ✓ Efficiency savings exceeded the original two-year plan

No one in the industry has innovated more and the changes implemented in short order are already delivering

OASIS' CLAIMS ARE MISLEADING; BOARD AND MANAGEMENT EXECUTION IS ALREADY UNDERWAY

FINANCIAL

OASIS CLAIM	VAIL RESPONSE
1 Vail Underperforms on a Total Returns Basis Needs Context	• Board recognized need for change and acted, including with new CEO and leadership • From Rob's return as CEO through the day before Oasis' nomination was made public, Vail Resorts' TSR has performed in line with the Dow Jones U.S. Travel & Leisure Index, down ~5%[1] • Epic Experience launched in July 2026 and is well positioned to deliver in coming years
2 Vail is Underperforming the Industry Selective Data	• Gained lift ticket visitation share in FY26 and total visitation by region performed in-line with the industry (overall impacted by regional mix of resorts)[2] • Outpaced industry visitation FY21–FY24 (+11% vs. industry +4%); despite acknowledged FY25 underperformance, maintained overall share between FY21–FY25[3]
3 There is No Clear Plan for Growth New Initiatives Signal Success	• Epic Experience plan launched in July 2026 to transform the guest journey • Marketing plans have already delivered outperformance relative to industry • Resource Efficiency plan is on track to exceed $100M target, with another $30M identified by FY28[4]
4 Company Continues to Miss Performance Targets Selective Data	• Industry dynamics have driven earnings volatility, though Vail's advanced commitment strategy has intentionally built greater stability into the business • FY26 earnings impacted by worst weather year in western U.S. history and pass revenue mitigated the earnings impact from abnormally challenging weather[4] • FY24 earnings miss driven by industry-wide post-COVID normalization of demand as company performed slightly ahead of the industry[4]

	OASIS CLAIM	VAIL RESPONSE
FINANCIAL	5 Dividend Is at Risk & Buybacks Destroyed Value Fully Covered	• Positive free cash flow after capex & dividends expected even at the low end of FY27 guidance • The dividend has been held steady at $2.22 / share • Payout ratios use trough FY26 results; FCF rebounds ~21% to $396M at the FY27 midpoint [1]
FINANCIAL	6 Limited Ancillary Yield Growth & Margin declines Ignores resort mix & weather in FY26	• 28 Resorts acquired after FY19 in regional and local markets that have a different Margin and Ancillary Yield profile than resorts in the network before FY19 • EBITDA Margins at acquired resorts averaged 23% pre-acquisition vs. 31% for the network of resorts owned prior to acquiring these resorts; Similarly Ancillary yields at acquired resorts were $47/visit vs. $65/visit for the resorts owned before FY19 [2] • Acquisitions were accretive to the network
OPERATIONAL	7 The Guest Experience is Getting Worse, and Weather Does not Explain It Data Suggests Otherwise	• Record FY26 guest satisfaction and industry outperformance [3] despite poor weather • Rockies NPS scores up 5% over the last two fiscal years [4] • Lift lines were maintained under 10 minutes 98% of the time in the 2025/2026 season [5]
OPERATIONAL	8 Assets Underutilized with Lack of Premium Offerings Uninformed	• Tactical ideas Oasis offers have been evaluated and are not the largest opportunities • Optimized approach to product and pricing across all products to maximize revenue • Epic Experience focuses on largest opportunities to differentiate experience at scale

	OASIS CLAIM	VAIL RESPONSE
MARKETING	9 Marketing Strategy is Not Working Significant Investment Underway	• Revamped marketing drove an immediate improvement post-Labor Day 2025 pass trends by ~5 points, lift ticket performance also outperformed the industry in FY26 [1] and Pass sales for FY27 are outperforming peers [2] • Epic Pass generated 28% more creator impressions than Ikon, even with 10% fewer creator posts
	10 Vail Resorts Centralized Marketing Away from the Resorts Connected to our resorts	• We benefit from the shared resources and oversight of centralized marketing, while ensuring we have the right resources and expertise at the resorts • Recent marketing changes increased unaided brand awareness
	11 Vail Resorts is Underperforming on Social Media Leading in total Social	• Oasis's social media analysis focuses narrowly on TikTok and YouTube, excluding major social platforms (Facebook and Instagram), overlooking the broader social media ecosystem, and failing to evaluate actual content performance and audience engagement • A broader view reveals that across Facebook, Instagram, YouTube, and TikTok, Vail Resorts has 20%more followers than Alterra's resorts[3] • Vail Resorts also publishes significantly more social content than Alterra accounts. Across the entire Epic/Vail Resorts social ecosystem, the total number of posts was 180% higher than Alterra posts in FY26[3]

	OASIS CLAIM	VAIL RESPONSE
GOVERNANCE	12 Poor Succession Planning Acted Decisively	• The Board regularly reviews succession planning as part of a deliberate, multi-year process, led by the Compensation Committee • In 2021, groomed internal successor with strong track record growing pass business • As the business evolved and company-specific performance deteriorated, the Board reassessed leadership and determined a change was needed in May 2025 • Rob Katz returned to reset the strategy as the Board rebuilds the succession pipeline
	13 The Board does not Hold Management Accountable Lack of Evidence Provided	• 8 of 9 board members independent • Demonstrated strong board oversight by making a leadership change in May 2025 • Management incentive pay and equity declined significantly when TSR declined
	14 Board does not have Hospitality Expertise Outdated, Contradictory Claim	• Two directors with significant hospitality expertise: Iris Knobloch (Accor) & Bill Hornbuckle (MGM) • Only one Oasis nominee has hospitality expertise, and was terminated as Disney CEO • Board expertise is broad and diverse as outlined in skills matrix
	15 A Reconstituted Board is Needed to Drive Results Board Refresh is Ongoing	• Three longer-tenured independent directors stepped off the Board since 2024 • Board search for 10th director is underway; Board is seeking a current executive with consumer industry expertise at scale and a strong track record of driving value • Oasis nominees lack a track record of successfully guiding public companies at Vail's scale without controversy

- Oasis referred two candidates on August 18 and 26; Mr. Katz met both within days (August 26 and 28)
- The Board included both in its director search on September 2, yet neither appeared on Oasis' formal slate

Oasis Sought an Extension to the Company's Nomination Deadline, Then Named its Slate at the Last Minute

- Mr. Fischer requested an extension to the closing of Vail's advance notice window to nominate directors on August 21 and 31
- Mr. Hudson and Bryce Roberts were named one day before the September 10 deadline, and Picabo Street on the deadline itself. Despite knowing Mr. Hudson since April, Oasis did not include him among the candidates it proposed in August

Dropped Two Nominees Once Their Ties to Matthew Prince Drew Scrutiny

- Ms. Street disclosed that Mr. Prince, the Cloudflare CEO seeking to buy Park City Mountain, introduced her to Oasis
- Mr. Roberts later confirmed the same; on October 30, Oasis withdrew both, cutting its slate from four to two

OASIS SAYS THEY ARE NOT COORDINATING WITH MATTHEW PRINCE …HOWEVER, THE TIMING AND APPEARANCE RAISE SERIOUS QUESTIONS

Of all potential candidates, Oasis sourced two of its four original nominees from Mr. Prince and provided no disclosure on contacts with Prince in its proxy statement

Matthew Prince, a Park City local and Cloudflare CEO, has been very public about wanting to buy Park City Mountain for himself

Mr. Prince published his "five-step plan"

Matthew Prince @eastdakota X.com

Process:

1. Find an activist to target Vail;
2. Have them take over the Board and take private;
3. Use the cash I'd pay to buy Park City to underwrite the debt for the take private;
4. Sell or restructure remaining resort assets; and
5. Take public or reap cash flows from the asset lite NewVail which still generates a ton of revenue from Epic pass sales à la Alterra.

Oasis drops the two Prince-sourced nominees without explanation

Mr. Prince on tech podcast, claims insight into MTN board search process from one of Oasis' original nominees, Mr. Roberts; Roberts subsequently endorses the post and says "True story" on X

Matthew Prince's agenda is clear: disrupt Vail, acquire Park City Mountain, and leverage Oasis to help make it happen

Oasis knew Mr. Prince's very public and self-interested objective, yet still nominated two people he introduced - withdrawing them does not erase the connection, and it raises questions about Oasis' long-term motivations

OASIS' NOMINEES ARE NOT THE RIGHT FIT FOR VAIL RESORTS

- ✓ THE BOARD INTERVIEWED THE OASIS NOMINEES IN ACCORDANCE WITH ITS NORMAL PROCESS
- ✓ ASSESSED ON QUALIFICATIONS, BOARD DYNAMICS AND COMPANY NEEDS
- ✓ NONE MET VAIL'S CRITERIA FOR EFFECTIVE BOARD SERVICE

BOB CHAPEK HAS A FAILED TRACK RECORD AND GOVERNANCE CONCERNS

BOARD HAS CONCERNS WITH HIS TRACK RECORD, INCLUDING GOVERNANCE AND HIS INABILITY TO KEEP CONFIDENTIALITY, COMPOUNDED BY THE POTENTIAL INFLUENCE OF HIS FINANCIAL SIDE INCENTIVES

FIRED FROM CEO ROLE AT DISNEY

– Fired as Disney CEO in November 2022, under three years into the role – shareholder return of -28% during his tenure[1]

SERIOUS GOVERNANCE CONCERNS

– During his director interview, called ISS "biased" and said "nobody really follows ISS anyway" when discussing ISS's comments on Masimo's governance

– Selected by former Masimo CEO, Joe Kiani, to join the Masimo board in 2024. Board generally criticized for very poor governance and failures to oversee Kiani. ISS described Masimo's governance as "firmly among the most troubling of any modern public company". Resigned from the board after shareholders sided with activists. Currently serves on the board of another Kiani-founded company.

SIDE INCENTIVES CALL INTO QUESTION HIS MOTIVES

– Paid by Oasis: $100,000 per month since July 28, 2026

– Paid more by Oasis if elected: a $500,000 forgivable loan, and no shares today

– Contractually committed to the contest — but said he doesn't want to be a part of it?

Bob Chapek is a controversial figure whose short, unsuccessful stints as a CEO and public company board member serve to highlight that he is not the right fit for Vail Resorts' Board

Source: Revised Vail Resorts Definitive Proxy Statement, filed on Nov. 2nd, 2026; The Walt Disney Company press releases; Yahoo Finance.

1. Shareholder return calculated from Disney closing share price on Feb. 25, 2020, when Chapek was named CEO, through Nov. 18, 2022, the last trading day prior to the announcement of his departure

OASIS CLAIM	WHAT YOU SHOULD KNOW
⊗ Oasis claims Bob Chapek will "exercise independent judgment."	Oasis has committed to pay Chapek almost $1 million to serve as a consultant and its nominee, if elected to the Board. His agreement with Oasis includes $100,000 per month in advisory fees and a $500,000 forgivable loan to purchase Vail Resorts shares if elected. We question whether he can act independently for all shareholders, having received this extraordinary compensation from Oasis.[1]
⊗ Oasis claims Bob Chapek will address alleged "governance failures."	Aside from his short tenure on the Disney board, Chapek's only other public company board experience was his 15-month tenure on the board of Masimo Corporation. Chapek was selected by the founder and then-CEO of Masimo to join the board and was paid more than other directors for his service. During the period in 2024 when Chapek served on that board Institutional Shareholder Services described its governance as "firmly among the most troubling of any modern public company" and highlighted concerns about the failure of the board to oversee the CEO. Chapek left the Board after shareholders voted to remove the CEO from the board. When the Vail Resorts Board asked Chapek about the 2024 ISS report, he downplayed the significance of ISS commentary. Today, Chapek sits on the private board of another company founded by the former CEO of Masimo.[1]
⊗ Oasis says shareholders can expect "more candor" from Bob Chapek.	In his first interview with the Company, Chapek told the Company that he did not want to be a part of a contentious activist fight but did not disclose that he had already signed a contract with Oasis to do just that. We believe this lack of candor is troubling.

⊗ Oasis says Bob Chapek will "demand better performance" and "hold leadership accountable."	In his interview with members of the Vail Resorts Board, Chapek did not demonstrate basic knowledge of the Company's services, products and strategic initiatives, including recent Epic Experience announcements, despite being paid handsomely by Oasis to presumably do just that. In his own words included in his tell-all memoir, Behind the Castle Walls: My Thirty Years at the Happiest Place on Earth, Chapek also seems to dismiss any accountability for the shortcomings during his tenure as Disney CEO and appears to place all of the blame for his failure on others. In his book, Chapek says: "My abrupt dismissal hurt my reputation, leaving those close to me, outsiders, and some within the kingdom trying to figure out what I did wrong. The answer? Nothing."[1] Yet, Chapek oversaw significant financial losses in Disney's direct-to-consumer (DTC) streaming division during his tenure, including $1.5 billion in losses during the fourth quarter of 2022 and over $4 billion for the 2022 fiscal year.[2] Chapek was replaced after less than three years in the role, with the Disney board stating that the Company was embarking on an "increasingly complex period of industry transformation" that required different leadership.[3]
⊗ Oasis says Bob Chapek's experience "would help Vail Resorts deepen the Company's connection to guests and communities."	During Chapek's short tenure as Disney CEO, relationships with some of the company's most important stakeholders came under strain, culminating in a "crisis of confidence" in Chapek's leadership.[4] We think he is a controversial and polarizing figure who will not deepen connections with Vail Resorts' key stakeholders.

While it might make for good entertainment for some and will certainly make money for Chapek, his decision to write a tell-all book about his time as Disney's CEO and director calls into question whether he will protect the confidentiality of Board deliberations and decisions.

ASHTON HUDSON: NO RELEVANT OPERATING EXPERIENCE AT SCALE

HUDSON EXPERIENCE LACKS RELEVANCY AND SCALE

NO RELEVANT OPERATING EXPERIENCE: SMALL PEST CONTROL COMPANY, NOT MOUNTAIN RESORTS

- Only operating role was at a private pest control company eight years ago
- Lacks experience of large-scale operations
- Affiliated with an asset manager focused on timberland and natural resource investments; now runs his family office
- Recent board experience is at special purpose acquisition companies – not operating companies

NO STRATEGY OR ADDITIVE EXPERTISE FOR THE BOARD

- He has not articulated specific ideas or a value improvement thesis for Vail
- In his interview, he focused primarily on capital allocation and entrepreneurial experience, providing no evidence of differentiated skills that would enhance the Board's existing capabilities

Mr. Hudson lacks relevant experience, and his entrepreneurial background is not additive to the Board

GREGORY MEYER: NO RELEVANT EXPERIENCE, LIMITED BOARD EXPERIENCE AND NO RECENT EXPERIENCE TO BRING TO THE BOARD

MEYER OWNS JUST 3,053 SHARES, HAS NO RELEVANT EXPERIENCE AND LIMITED BOARD EXPERIENCE, LARGELY REVOLVING AROUND BANKRUPTCY PROCEEDINGS

NO RELEVANT OPERATING EXPERIENCE: DVD KIOSKS, NOT MOUNTAIN RESORTS

- Founded DVDXpress, a DVD rental kiosk business, and sold it to Coinstar in 2007, where it was later merged into Redbox
- No disclosed mountain resort, hospitality, or large-scale consumer operating experience — Vail Resorts operates 42 resorts across four countries

A FAILED BOARD RECORD: HE WON A SEAT BY SETTLEMENT ON THE EVE OF A PROXY FIGHT, AND BLOCKBUSTER FILED FOR BANKRUPTCY THREE MONTHS LATER

- Joined the Blockbuster board on June 24, 2010, after launching a proxy campaign for the seat
- Blockbuster filed for Chapter 11 just three months later, on September 23, 2010
- He resigned on April 26, 2011, at the closing of the 363 asset sale, serving just 9 months

NOTHING TO EVALUATE: NO STRATEGY AND NO SIGNIFICANT STAKE IN VAIL

- President of Tribeca Capital Management since 2019, a private company that appears to own a few residential properties but otherwise appears to lack operations
- No well-developed strategy and no significant stake in Vail

Meyer has given shareholders nothing to vote for —
No relevant experience and last operating role is dated

STRONG SUPPORT FROM VAIL RESORTS' TOP SHAREHOLDER

"Baron Capital will vote for Vail Resorts' nominees. Under the proven leadership of CEO Rob Katz, I believe that Vail Resorts has the right strategy to return to sustainable earnings growth and that there are meaningful opportunities that are not reflected in the stock today. This includes capturing more revenue through enhanced rental equipment and ski school offerings, and increasing engagement through continued investment in technology, mountain infrastructure, and the guest experience.

I do not believe the Oasis nominees would serve the best long-term interests of investors and strongly oppose their candidacies. I also have serious concerns about Oasis' coordination with Matthew Prince. I believe Prince's self-interested demand that the Company sell him Park City, one of its most iconic mountains, is short-sighted and destructive to long-term shareholder value. That alone taints my view of anyone Oasis recommends for the Board, including Bob Chapek. Vail Resorts' opportunity is in using the full power of its network of irreplaceable resorts, not dismantling it."

CAPITAL ALLOCATION

DO NOT DISRUPT THE CLEAR PATH FORWARD

THE DISSIDENT NOMINATIONS: OASIS AND MEYER vs VAIL RESORTS

✗ OASIS OFFERS NO SUPERIOR PLAN

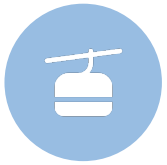

- No superior strategy
- No quantified value creation plan
- No compelling rationale for replacing directors
- The issues raised are already being addressed
- Nominees do not have the experience, background and skills necessary to be incrementally valuable to the Board

✗ MEYER LACKS RELEVANT EXPERIENCE AND NEW IDEAS

- No new ideas
- Career in obsolete technology (DVD-rental and automated retail kiosk)
- No mountain, resort or hospitality operating experience
- Only one public board seat — Blockbuster, which was held for just 9 months in 2010-2011, during which the company went bankrupt

✓ THE BOARD ALREADY ACTED

- Decisive changes have already been implemented
- New CEO and Chief Revenue Officer
- Right leaders for the next phase
- Three directors added since 2024, as three longer tenured directors will have resigned as of the Annual Meeting since 2025
- Epic Experience growth strategy launched
- Search for a tenth director well underway

✓ SUPPORT ALL VAIL RESORTS NOMINEES

- Vote the WHITE proxy card or WHITE voting instruction form, and disregard Oasis' blue proxy card or blue voting instruction form and Meyer's gold proxy card or gold voting instruction form

4. Represents 99% of the proceeds of all sales of Vail Resorts common stock held by Mr. Katz in the last 10 years

A SIGNIFICANT PORTION OF OUR CEO'S PAY IS TIED TO SHAREHOLDER VALUE CREATION

CEO Rob Katz's pay is set well below peers, and a significant portion of the value he realizes depends on Vail's stock price. In fiscal 2026, his achieved pay came in well below target.

CEO Fiscal 2026 Pay: Target vs. Reported vs. Value

How Mr. Katz's Pay is Tied To Shareholders' Interests

What is a SAR?
A stock appreciation right (SAR) pays only the rise in Vail's stock price above a set price. If the stock doesn't go above that price, it pays nothing.

Set 10% above the stock price
Mr. Katz's fiscal 2026 SARs pay only above $164.53 a share, 10% higher than the stock price when they were granted. The stock must rise more than 10% from its value on the grant date of the SARs before he gains anything from such SARs.

Pays only if shareholders gain
Half of Mr. Katz's target fiscal 2026 long-term incentive grant is in the form of SARs. They are worth something only if the stock price rises well above today's level, which benefits all shareholders.

Paid below peers, at his request
Mr. Katz asked that his target pay be set substantially below market median at peer companies. His fiscal 2026 salary was $1.0M, compared with $1.12M in fiscal 2025.

The Board has not insulated management from performance; realized outcomes reflect results

FY26 Resort Reported EBITDA reached 85.5% of target, the annual incentive funded at 20.5%, and the CEO's award was based entirely on Company performance

ANNUAL INCENTIVE

- Funded on Resort Reported EBITDA, the measure of resort cash earnings
- No payout below 80% of target; maximum payout requires 120% or greater of target performance
- Rob Katz's FY26 annual incentive was based entirely on Company performance, receiving a $204,600 MIP award vs. a $1.0mm target, with ~50% of FY26 equity delivered as Premium SARs with a 10% premium strike price

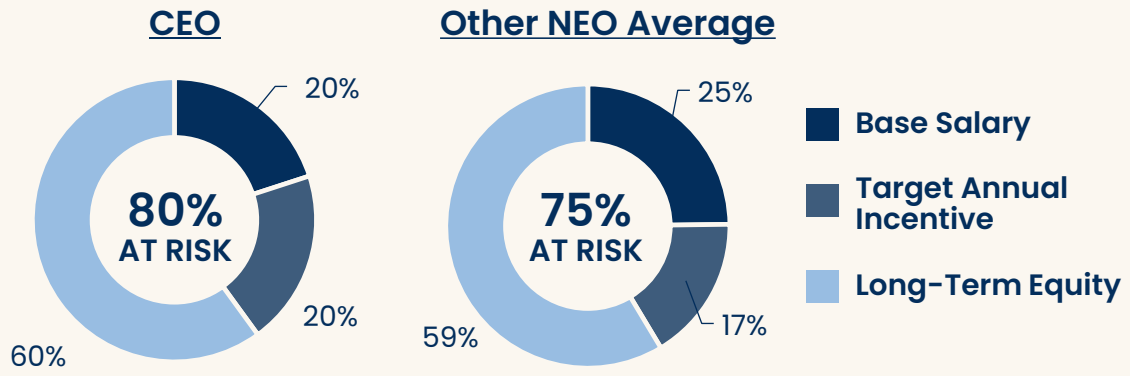

LONG-TERM EQUITY

- Largest component of target pay for every named executive officer

7.7%
overhang with the request

Who has been granted shares under the 2024 Plan

Awards extend well beyond senior leadership. Approximately 57% of awards granted under the 2024 Plan went to employees other than the five current NEOs.

Why shareholders should support the request

Why more shares now
Only 406,093 shares are left, less than one year of grants at the fiscal 2026 rate. Utilization can change due to a combination of executive turnover, larger grant values, and fluctuation in stock price.

Share count methodology
Plan reserve usage does not translate one-for-one into actual dilution. Shares withheld for taxes and shares not issued upon net settlement of SARs still reduce the plan reserve and are not recycled for future awards.

Shareholder-friendly plan terms
No repricing without shareholder approval, no evergreen share increase, minimum one-year vesting subject to limited exceptions and no automatic single-trigger vesting upon a change in control.

Implications of a failed vote
If the proposal fails, Vail can continue granting awards until the existing reserve is depleted, but it would need to return to shareholders sooner for additional shares or rely more heavily on cash compensation.

Source: Vail Resorts 2026 proxy statement; 2024 vote results. Burn rate is the 2-year average for fiscal 2025 – 2026; overhang of 7.7% is as of Oct. 19, 2026, including the request. PROVEN SHAREHOLDER ALIGNMENT, THE RIGHT METRICS, DEMONSTRATED BOARD RESPONSIVENESS

Demonstrated Shareholder Alignment

- Shareholders have consistently demonstrated strong support, with 97% approval in 2025 and ~98% in 2024, following engagement with holders of >80% of shares outstanding
- Backed by a no-fault clawback on both cash and equity, a hedging and pledging ban, 6x-salary CEO ownership with a 75% net-share retention requirement, no repricing without shareholder approval, and no pensions or SERPs

The Right Metrics

- Half the CEO's equity pays nothing unless the stock rises 10% from its grant date
- Shareholders earn a 10% return before the CEO earns at all
- 83% of CEO pay is at-risk over the last three years
- The cash bonus is funded solely on Resort Reported EBITDA, with zero payout below 80% of target

Demonstrated Board Responsiveness

- FY24 Resort Reported EBITDA came in at ~89% of target and the Committee funded the bonus pool at just ~24%, cutting the then-CEO's annual bonus by 76%
- In FY25 a 0.8% miss still cut every eligible NEO's bonus 8% below target

MEYER'S CLAIMS DO NOT SUPPORT HIS PROPOSED SOLUTION

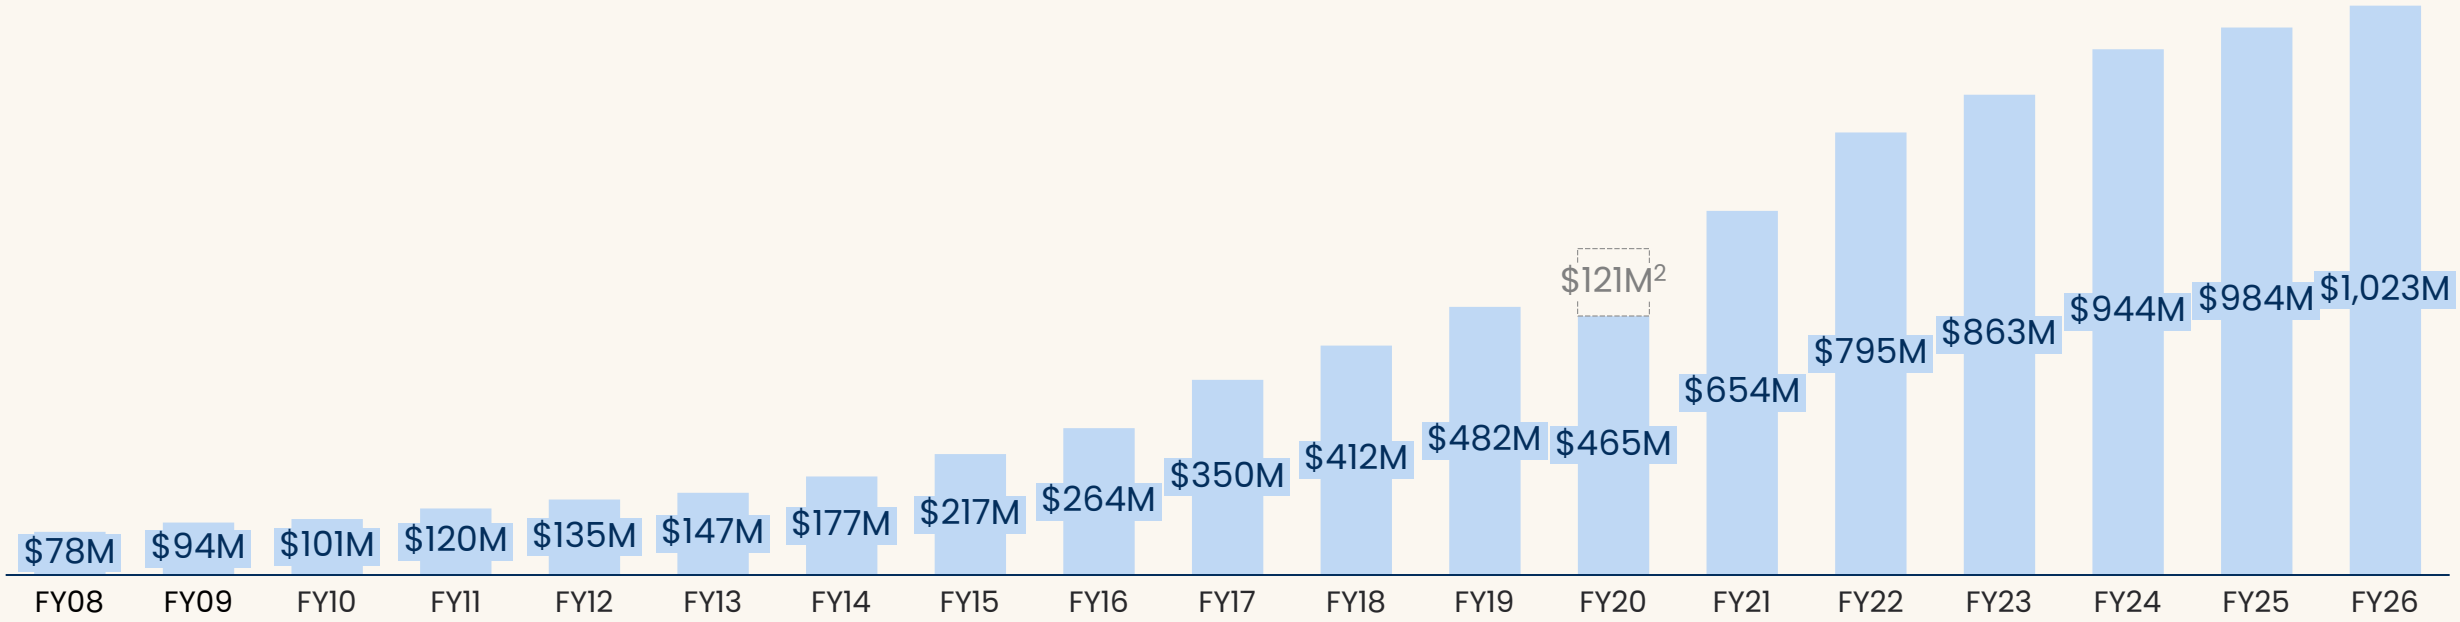

MEYER CLAIM	VAIL RESPONSE
Five Years of Share Price Underperformance	• Impacted by multiple expansion to all-time highs from COVID dynamics, post-COVID travel normalization, followed by maturation of pass demand and industry share and historically low snowfall and historically warm temperatures in western U.S. in the '25/'26 ski season
Return on Invested Capital (ROIC) Is Declining	• Meyer's data is cherry-picked from an 8-year high of 14.0% in FY22 (peak-COVID)[1] • 9.0% FY26 ROIC he cites compares favorably to 21-year average of 8.6%[1] and impacted by abnormal weather year in FY26 • Vail's ROIC has consistently exceeded its cost of capital
Vail has Poor Capital Allocation	• Vail has shown balanced approach to capital allocation, returning capital to shareholders as free cash flow exceeded opportunities for reinvestment • Vail has shown allocation discipline, reducing its buybacks by ~83% and its total distributions (dividends and buybacks) by ~39% in FY26
Vail's Current Leverage is a Problem	• Mid-point of FY27 EBITDA guidance, leverage would be 3.5x (10-year avg. of 2.8x) • FY22 leverage of 2.0x was based on an unusually large cash balance of $1.1B (5-year avg. cash balance is $540M)[2] • Strong free cash flow profile supports servicing debt, staggered maturity profile and demonstrated ability to access capital for re-financings
