

WHAT IS FAITH IN MOTION?

Faith in Motion is a collaboration between San Diego County Child & Family Well-Being (CFWB) and faith-based organizations, which focuses on the recruitment and support of relative caregivers and foster/adoptive parents.

CFWB strives to stabilize, strengthen and preserve families. When additional support and resources are required, families benefit from the kindness of relatives, neighbors and community who create opportunities for every child to feel safe and cared for in a nuturing environment.

The Faith in Motion collaboration is driven by the need for youth in foster care to maintain or obtain safe and supportive relationships during the reunification process and establish permanent, life-long connections as they mature and thrive in their local communities.
