Chorizo – Bilbao/Spain

Spain is not only famous for its extraordinary national football team, but also for its culture of enjoyment and zest for life, which is also reflected in regional culinary specialities. With its typical red colour, the Chorizo can be used universally – as a snack as well as in hot-pots, pan-fried dishes, or even salads. A strong hint of Pimenton de la Vera provides the mix of coarsely minced pork and bacon with its characteristic smoky flavour. ¡Caramba!

Recipe No. 11.115-5

Münchner Weißwurst – Munich/Germany

Baku or Bucharest – it doesn't matter as long as it's Germany! Genuine "Lichtgestalten" suck the Münchner Weißwurst right out of the sausage casing – before the clock strikes 12 p.m.! The scalded sausage is seasoned with a fine mix of pepper, ginger, and mace, and excites with its marvellously fresh hint of lemon. Best enjoyed with some sweet mustard, a fresh lye pretzel and a glass of cold wheat beer. Cheers!

Recipe No. 05.111

Roast beef – London/England

Championship Final in London! What would be more appropriate for this occasion than a slowly sous-vide cooked roast beef with a crust of spices? Noble and tender beef meets our finely balanced herbal mixtures DekorWürz Rustikal and Dekor Gartenkräuter grün – or alternatively Dekor Pepparlic and Dekor Porchetta. Almost as green as the turf at Wembley!

Recipe No. 01.926-4

Mici (Cevapcici) – Bucharest/Romania

For the first time among the venues of the European Championship: Bucharest! It is said that about 100 years ago, Mici were invented there: Mincemeat rolls strongly seasoned with garlic, black and white pepper, paprika and parsnip. Today, Mici are Romania's national dish – variants such as Cevapcici have become popular all over South Europe. A specifically tasty dish that goes perfectly with some white bread.

Recipe No. 03-161-2

Porchetta – Rome/Italy

Before attending the quarter final at the Stadio Olimpico, you should definitely try a typical Italian delicacy: The rustic Porchetta offers an explosion of flavours that can be achieved with a very small number of ingredients! Whether rolled pork belly or pigling: In addition to the delicate crust and the juicy meat, our Dekor Porchetta herbal mix of rosemary, sage, thyme, and parsley makes this traditional dish a sensational treat for your palate!

Recipe No. 01.463

Beef Stroganoff – St. Petersburg/Russia

Charles Brière, a chef in St. Petersburg, presented the Beef Stroganoff to the international gourmet world for the first time in 1891. Essential for the quality of the dish are not only the succulently tender beef fillet tips with the subtle hint of pepper of LA Plata Gewürzsalz, but also the fine cream sauce with DekorWürz Waldpilze and Dekor Gartenkräuter grün.

Recipe No. 14.049-2

Fish & Chips – Dublin/Ireland

Not only the Boys in Green like to feast on fish & chips! The street and pub food with fried cod in a crust of batter and potato chips seasoned with Pommes Gewürzsalz and malt vinegar was traditionally served wrapped in newspaper sheets. Fish & chips is for Dublin, what the "Currywurst" is for Berlin!

Hot dog (Røde Pølser) – Copenhagen/Denmark

For the round of 16 match at Copenhagen, you should definitely treat yourself with a hot dog! This speciality is popular in all parts of Europe and consists of minced pork, seasoned with pepper, ginger, paprika, coriander, and nutmeg – served in a longish white bread roll with lots of fried onions, cucumber, mustard, and ketchup! Simple, but always delicious!

Recipe No. 05.111-5 and Recipe No. 14.091

Lamb chops with whisky marinade – Glasgow/Scotland

Hampden Park, the first stadium for professional football, is as legendary as the hearty treats from the Scottish highlands! Our lamb chops combine the tender taste of lamb with a strong mix of herbal flavours (parsley, ramsons, chives) and spices (green pepper, paprika, garlic). The SoftFix Marinade Bavaricus mit Whisky oG perfectly rounds off the composition. Sláinte!
