OPBOX LIMITED

Acceptable Use Policy

Version 1.0 · Effective from 10 November 2026 · Published at www.opbox.ai

In short. This Policy sets out what customers and their users must not do with the Opbox platform. Breach allows Opbox to suspend, and where material to terminate, under clause 19 of the Master Subscription Terms.

1. The Customer must not use, and must not permit any User or third party to use, the Platform:

   (a) in breach of any applicable law or regulation, or in a way that infringes the rights of any person;

   (b) to upload, store, transmit or process infringing, defamatory, obscene, malicious or otherwise harmful content, including malware;

   (c) to circumvent or attempt to circumvent usage limits, entitlements, storage allowances, authentication or any other security control;

   (d) to interfere with, disrupt or impose an unreasonable load on the Platform, or to interfere with any other customer's use of it;

   (e) to process special category personal data or personal data relating to criminal convictions and offences, unless expressly permitted in writing by the parties; or

   (f) to conduct penetration testing, vulnerability scanning or benchmarking without Opbox's prior written consent.

2. The Customer must notify Opbox promptly of any actual or suspected breach of this policy and will cooperate with Opbox to investigate and remedy it.

3. Breach of this policy entitles Opbox to suspend the Subscription under clause 19.1 of the Terms and, where the breach is material, to terminate under clause 19.2.
